

Divine Source (God) is Both Father and Mother

And welcome to you all. It is Portia and the Guides, and our topic this week is, Divine Source (God) is Both Father and Mother.

We see that it is a time when on earth the father, around Father's Day, is acknowledged and honored. In light of this, we wish to remind you that God – that which created you and all of life on earth and the earth herself – is both father and mother. Especially in the western culture, the idea of God as father has impressed itself upon the psyche of human beings. So, when you ask God for anything or you are talking with God or thinking about God, you often think of father.

The one called Jesus Christ brought forward the prayer, what you call the Daily Prayer. And it begins with a supplication to the father. This has set in motion the singularity of understanding of what the God Force is, in its entirety and fullness, which is both male and female. How could the Creative Source be only male or only female? Because sometimes we see that especially female human beings rush to the side of "God is female only."

We ask you to take a big step back here and to consider simply that the God that created this realm and everything upon it and within it, is both father and mother. Male and female. This God, Father/Mother God, Father/Mother Love, is all the qualities and aspects of perfect male and female. Male being protective, supportive of life in the outer frame we will say. Protective, mostly, of life and protective of the female. The female aspects are creative, bringing forth life, nurturing life, nourishing life, encouraging the best of life in all of its forms. Both male and female, Father/Mother God, love all of life. All of life. You are not left out. We wish to remind you of this, regardless of what you consider your faux pas or past activities that you may not be proud of. Father/Mother God, Father/Mother Love, loves you completely at every level of your being.

So, we ask you this week, as you consider how you relate to the concept of Divine Source, Creator, God, that you open up your understanding to include Father/Mother, male/female, and all the aspects and qualities of male and female. Those divine qualities and aspects of male and female.

When you think of father in its divine essence, how do you feel? Supported, strengthened, fortified. In the arms of God. When you consider mother, divine mother, what do you feel? Nourished, cared for, held, loved unconditionally.

Father/Mother God loves you unconditionally. Be with this idea this week, of God, Father/Mother Love. It will expand your horizons and it will give you a more sound foundation for your life and for your trusting in Father/Mother God.

Our love and blessings are with you, always, Namaste.
